Traditional and dynamic archery

Cross Archery is a discipline that combines time trial cross-country running and target archery. Even participants who have primary skills in archery with any kind of bows and arrows are allowed to compete.

Main provisions:

The main type of competition is held according to the WTAFU rules of Cross Archery.

The program of the tournament includes 4 stages - "Big Circle", "Small Circle", "Snake" and "Shuttles."

After registration, participants are divided into 4 groups, which will start simultaneously in 4 different stages, but all stages will be passed in turns.

A team leader, writer and controller will be appointed for each group by the organizers. The leader will be responsible for a group's correct passage of the route and the announcement of score points that should be written to the score cards by the writer, and a controller will confirm their authenticity.

The participant goes to the start with a bow and 6 arrows. The judge gives a signal to the beginning and the participant begins the passage of the route. The participant runs along the previously prepared route and shoots at the target from each confine. The shooter does not gain points if he misses the target. Collection of arrows is allowed only when the participant has passed the full route, and the judge stopped and fixed the time and together with the referee made a calculation of points.
